Public Advisory: Schools Update

As communicated by the Provincial Government, schools of the Newfoundland and Labrador English School District are scheduled to open at normal times tomorrow. Members of the general public are advised that some schools within the District may have delayed openings due to localized issues from the weather of this weekend.

Schools with issues will communicate delays through typical communication channels such as local media, school websites and social media accounts, as well as direct contact by schools. Families are advised to monitor these communication methods closely tomorrow. Please be advised there may also be bus delays due to damaged traffic lights.

As there has been extensive damage throughout the province due to recent weather we urge everyone to use caution as they travel throughout the day and watch for debris and other potential hazards.
